

TEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE. ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC.

New York, March 14. The steamship Pacific has arrived below, and the following abstract of her news, which is to Wednesday, the 27th ult., has been received from Sandy Hook.

The Pacific arrived out at Liverpool on the 23d. The Pacific saw a steamship off the Skerries at 1 o'clock, P. M., on the 27th, supposed to be the Africa.

The Union arrived off Cowes on the afternoon of the 26th. Another Ministerial crisis has occurred, and Messrs. Gladstone, Herbert and Grahame, have resigned from the English Cabinet, which has been reconstructed. No important changes were, however, made, except that Lord John Russell has been made Colonial Secretary.

Joseph Hume is dead. Mr. Roebuck's motion was carried for a committee of inquiry into the mismanagement of the war. This occasioned the retirements from the Cabinet.

It is officially announced by the Allies, that on the 17th of February, Gen. Liprandi, with 40,000 Russians and seventy guns, attacked the Turks at Eupatoria, commanded by Omar Pasha. The battle lasted four hours, when the Russians retired with a loss of 500.

No change has occurred at Sebastopol. Lord Raglan is reported to have resigned, Lord Lucan has been recalled.

The distress in England from the severe winter has been very great. The unemployed workmen at Liverpool and London had been engaged in riots, but the weather having changed, and the shipping arriving in great number, removed all danger of further trouble.

The Vienna Conference will be opened in a few days, and all parties are said to profess anxiety for peace.

SECOND DISPATCH. The Palmerston Ministry has fallen to pieces. Messrs. Graham, Gladstone and Herbert have resigned, ostensibly on account of the passage of Mr. Roebuck's motion, but the private squabbles of the Cabinet are also believed to be the cause.

Rumor says that the Roebuck party will not rest satisfied without the impeachment of Lord Raglan and one or more of the ex-Ministers.

Lord Palmerston had been much troubled in reconstructing the Cabinet, and had not fully completed.

Lord John Russell takes the Colonial Secretaryship as a stop to the gap, but first completes his mission to Vienna.

Rumor gives Lord Elgin a seat in the cabinet, and the Earl of Carlisle as Viceroy to Ireland.

The new Chancellor of the Exchequer, Mr. Lewis is an untried man.

The Members of the Government express confident hopes that the pending negotiation may lead to an honorable peace, although war measures continue all over Europe.

Louis Napoleon seems determined to proceed to the Crimea. He has been advised by England and Austria to stay at home.

Russia has declared war upon Sardinia, it is stated, but yet needs confirmation.

Tuscany has joined the Western Powers. Naples has not.

The following details of the battle of Eupatoria are furnished. General Liprandi had a force about equal to, or perhaps a few thousand superior to the Turks. After four hours firing, Gen. Liprandi retired beyond the range of the shells from the English ships.

The Turks were under command of Omar Pasha, but did not pursue.

Lord Raglan is said to have resigned to avoid a recall. Earl Lucan and some other officers have been wanted to resign.

The very inclement weather has caused much suffering among the poor of England. Sir Charles Wood takes Sir James Graham's place as first Lord of the Admiralty.

Lord John Russell has published an address to his constituents defining his position, and placing himself in their hands as a candidate for a renewal of their confidence.

On the 10th, the royal assent was given to the North American fisheries bill.

The Convention between Great Britain and the Porte for the enlistment of the Turkish contingent, has been signed.

An interesting debate took place in Parliament upon the question of going into committee upon the army estimates.

Lord Palmerston contended that the sufferings of the army in the Crimea arose from physical causes in the power of no man to control. The sufferings were not confined to the British army. The Russian sick and wounded amounted to 35,000 men.

Lord Palmerston announced that the Earl of Lucan had been recalled, in consequence of his differences with Lord Raglan.

On the 20th ult., the Duke of Cambridge took a seat in the House of Lords.

Lord Palmerston said that compulsory measures must unquestionably be resorted to, in order to fill up the ranks of the service.

SUMMARY OF NEWS.

John R. Boodhead, Esq., Naval Officer of the Port of New York, has declined the appointment of Consul General to Japan, tendered to him by the President, and will remain in his present position. The emoluments of the Naval Office average $8000 per annum.

Two boxes of gold, worth about $400,000, consigned to Page, Bacon & Co., in New York, by the steamer Northern Light, were robbed, probably on the Lithuan, and a quantity of iron put in the place of their contents.

The expense of buttons worn on the backs of our coats, where they are of no earthly use, is equal to the support of all our orphan asylums.

The body of Emma Moore, it is stated, who mysteriously disappeared from Rochester, Nov. 11th, has been found buried in Rochester—with evident marks of having been murdered.

An Artesian well at New Orleans has the depth of 240 feet, from which point the auger brought up sea shells of every description.

The Minnesota papers are denouncing the Sheriff of Ramsey county, for charging $500 for hanging an Indian.

It does not necessarily follow that when a man is the lion of a party, that he should make a beast of himself.

"Did you know," said a cunning Yankee to a Jew, "that they hang Jews and jackasses together in Portland?" "Indeed? then it is well that you and I are not there," retorted the Jew.

"It won't do to conclude that a man is always happy when he is smiling, or that he is a house-builder because you always find him with a brick in his hat."

The New Postage Law.

An Act further to amend the act entitled "An act to reduce and modify the rates of postage in the United States and for other purposes," passed March three, eighteen hundred and fifty-one.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That, in lieu of the rates of postage now established by law, there shall be charged the following rates, to wit:

For every single letter in manuscript, or paper of any kind in which information shall be asked for or communicated in writing, or by marks or signs, conveyed in the mail for any distance between places in the United States not exceeding three thousand miles, three cents; and for any distance exceeding three thousand miles, ten cents.

And for a double letter there shall be charged double the rate above specified; and, for a treble letter, treble those rates; and, for a quadruple letter, quadruple those rates; and every letter or parcel not exceeding half an ounce, and every additional weight of half an ounce, shall be charged with an additional single postage; and upon all letters passing through or in the mail of the United States, such as are to or from a foreign country, the postages as above specified shall be prepaid, except upon letters and packages addressed to the officers of the government on official business, which shall be so marked on the envelope. And from and after the first day of January, eighteen hundred and fifty-six, the Postmaster-General may require postmasters to place postage stamps upon all prepaid letters upon which such stamps may not have been placed by the writers.

All drop-letters, or letters placed in any postoffice not for transmission through the mail, but for delivery only, shall be charged with postage at the rate of one cent each; and all letters which shall hereafter be advertised as remaining over, or uncollected for, in any postoffice, shall be charged with one cent each in addition to the regular postage, both to be accounted for as other postages now are.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall not be lawful for any postmaster or other persons to sell any postage stamp or stamped envelope for any larger sum than that indicated upon the face of such postage stamp, or for a larger sum than that charged by the Postoffice Department; and any person who shall violate this provision, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be fined in any sum not less than ten, nor more than five hundred dollars.—This act to take effect and be in force from and after the commencement of the next fiscal quarter after its passage. Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to alter the laws in relation to the franking privilege.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That for the greater security of valuable letters posted for transmission in the mails of the United States, the Postmaster-General be and he hereby is authorized to establish a uniform plan for the registration of such letters on application of parties posting the same, and to require the prepayment of the postage, as well as a registration fee of five cents on every such letter or packet to be accounted for by postmasters receiving the same in such manner as the Postmaster-General shall direct. Provided, however, That such registration shall not be compulsory; and it shall not render the Postoffice Department or its revenue liable for the loss of such letters or packets, or the contents thereof.

Approved March 3 1855.
